

An RRC education is now EVEN MORE accessible, flexible and immersive.

WHAT'S NEW

We've launched an innovative field education program — how students learn to be rabbis by doing — as a response to the needs of our students and the communities they serve.

WHAT HASN'T CHANGED

Our rootedness in Jewish tradition, our Reconstructionist approach, our spiritually nourishing community, our grounding in text study, focus on practice, and our ability to make religious leaders READY.

Ready to LEAD, Ready to SERVE, Ready to RABBI

RRC READY!

OUR INNOVATIVE FIELD EDUCATION PROGRAM

- Students in their later years can attend class remotely;
- Students can now train in internships outside the Philadelphia area, throughout the United States;
- This flexibility offers students access to a greater range of field experiences, a broader pool of mentors;
- This flexibility can potentially ease students' financial and family burdens;
- Students will experience a more intentional link between fieldwork and classroom learning;
- Our students can make an impact in more settings across the country even before they graduate.

WE'RE MORE COMMITTED THAN EVER TO:

Training a rabbinate that reflects the full diversity of the Jewish people

Empowering spiritual activists to ground the pursuit of social justice in Jewish wisdom and practice

Multifaith engagement

Spiritual growth

WANT TO LEARN MORE? LET'S HAVE A CONVERSATION.

Please contact Rabbi Melissa Heller, director of admissions and recruitment
MHeller@RRC.edu | 215-576-0800 ext. 123